The Episcopal Church Series

Basic Principles

1. Based upon the teaching of the Bible and Prayer Book.
2. A graded program adapted for use in the small school as well as the large school.
3. They are practical—being fitted to the spiritual and mental scope of the age-period for which they are written.
4. Written especially for the boys and girls of the Episcopal Church.
5. Easy to teach—satisfactory to the trained teacher, having been written by trained teachers, yet deliberately written to be usable by the vast majority who are not “trained teachers.”
6. Our editorial policy has consistently stressed the duty of every Christian to be a missionary of the Faith.
7. Practical and constructive “Helps” for the teacher.

Construction

The Episcopal Church Series is made up of six divisions, or departments, starting with the four year olds and progressing through the school to the Bible Class or adult group.

Each department is a three year course except the Beginners which is a two year course.

This means there is a lesson and a help for each Sunday in the year resulting in a winter course of nine months and a summer course of three months.

Both the Lessons for the pupils and the Helps for the teachers are issued quarterly and are made up of 32 pages and cover.

Experience in teaching has shown the need of a well planned program, properly developed, so that as the pupil progresses through the school from Beginners department to Bible Class department he will receive an adequate and well-rounded background of religious training, according to the age group in which he belongs. This vital need, in any training program, has been amply covered by our editors.

In turn, this gives the superintendent and the teacher an effective means for religious instruction as is shown in the curriculum on the opposite page.

The cost has been kept moderate so that the average church school can afford to subscribe.

In convenient form the lessons for the pupils are issued quarterly and are made up of 32 pages and cover. The Teachers' Helps are also published quarterly and consist of 32 pages and cover. The cost is moderate and well within the means of any school.
